Sensational Report #1

June 23, 1994

I listen to short wave occasionally. It has become a source for some legitimate news, as well as some of the same old garbage that we have become accustomed to on most radio and television stations. Unfortunately, a name, or claim, does not make what is said any more valid than what the establishment press says.

I was listening to a station that other day and I heard a spin on truth not unlike what I grew accustomed to in Waco during the 51 days when Bob Ricks (primary FBI spokesman) controlled, as the presumed authority, the news of the events in his forum. The spin on truth this time has a larger forum, which emanated out of Waco, or so lies the claim (or so claims the lie!). I can not always get clear reception on the station on which this slant occurred on the news, but decided that since I began in Waco what I am doing now, and what I heard so resembled what I heard in Waco, that I might just keep the old keyboard working writing responses to what the spin machine spits out, so I will.

You can expect infrequent, or perhaps frequent, Miz Market Reports. The forum was selected (and the title) because of the obvious means of financial "support" for the program. The first program I am addressing, coincidentally, had a claim proposed over the air that generated the name. The claim was that people were making money off of attacking Miz Market. Well, the only one I know of that is involved in making money off of falsehoods regarding Miz Market is Miz Market, itself. Miz Market has marketed everything but truth, and now it accuses others of making money by telling truthhoods (as opposed to falsehoods, which Miz Market champions) about Waco. Of course, of all of the people who are telling the truth, I see none that are making much more than subsistence, but, then, I do hope that this would be considered acceptable by Miz Market. Anyway, the Miz Market show is a promotion of genuine Miz Market products, conceived in falsehood, and perpetuated by the belief that if somebody tells you something that you want to believe bad enough, you can rationalize into reality that which is not. I guess you could say that Miz Market is a dream merchant.

Subsequently we were told that the security cameras in the interstate rest areas are really a government plot to "surveil" us. To watch us (sounds like Big Brother) in our daily, and nightly, activities. Well, for those of you who do things that you do not want Big Brother (that's Miz Markets distant, or maybe not so, relative) to observe, I would suggest that you refrain from committing said acts in the rest areas. I know that I stopped doing those things in rest areas long before they put the cameras up (I preferred drive in movies, and other more private areas). But, if you do continue to do those things in those areas, then you might not have to worry. If this is all central government controlled, they must have many civil servants getting paid to watch people do what people shouldn't be doing in rest areas in the first place. Or, just maybe, they are like the stickers that you buy that warn the world that your house, car, motorcycle or business, has a very sophisticated alarm system that will capture any person who violates its integrity. The difference, I suppose, is that we are stuck being able to afford only the stickers because the government steals our money to buy the cameras to serve the same purpose. But, then, if they did know that a crime was committed in a certain rest area at a certain time (just like most security systems) they could review the footage if they chose -- So, don't do anything that you shouldn't do in a rest area, in a rest area while a crime is being committed, or you may well find yourself in trouble.

Miz Market has suggested that the government has denied you freedom of the press. If you talk to KFYI radio in Phoenix, Arizona, you will find that Miz Market uses legal intimidation to deny you freedom of the press.

The ATF final report has defined the Paugeesukq Nation as a cult -- or so Miz Market reports. We have been unable to find this anywhere, perhaps it will enlighten us.

The Outpost of Freedom knew of the events on the Paugeesukq Reservation before anyone else, therefore OPF must be tied to government -- or so Miz Market reports. OPF went to Connecticut nearly a week after viewing the 20/20 report on the situation in Connecticut.

Bill Cooper did a thorough investigation of the events in Connecticut and determined that two brothers had claimed their land to be a reservation, were trying to steal a large part of Connecticut, and were selling cigarettes without collecting the state taxes on them -- or so Miz Market reports. The Golden Hill Paugeesukq tribe is not recognized by the federal government -- or so Miz Market reports. Mr. Cooper's investigation was identical to the 20/20 report. The facts were that the brothers were at odds with each other. Moonface Bear, with the consent of the Tribal Council, allowed the Tribe to sell cigarettes, as most Indian tribes in the country do. Moonface Bear was instrumental in getting the Court to drop the illegal land claims filed by his brother, Quiet Hawk. The charges against Moonface Bear, as an individual, are "hung up" in Court because the charges were brought against an individual when the Tribe was acting in its legal capacity to sell cigarettes without collecting state taxes. The Golden Hill Paugeesukq Tribe is not recognized by the federal government (score 1 for Miz Market). The Tribe has been recognized by the state of Connecticut for over three hundred years. If we recognize the lawful and constitutional autonomy of the fifty republics that form the Union, there is no need for the federal government to get involved in tribal relations unless the treaties were signed while the Indian lands were within U.S. territories.

Outpost of Freedom called for people to come armed to the Paugeesukq Reservation where the federal government was setting a trap for patriots -- or so Miz Market reports. There was no federal involvement, or trap, in the events on the Golden Hill Paugeesukq Reservation.

A suggestion was made by Miz Market "that if it involves guns and arms, and attempts to try to get patriots to come into situation where they will be annihilated," you should avoid it because it is obviously a government setup. Perhaps a quote from a letter written by Miz Market this past February would be in order. It was written regarding the situation in Connecticut.

"Patriots, the feds are looking for an opportunity to provoke a riot and declare Martial law. They are creating this opportunity before our eyes, and 'Chief Moon Face Bear' and his people, while they may have no legitimate claim to a 'reservation' are nothing but pawns that will sacrificed to accomplish this goal."

Anyone going to Washington, D. C. on September 19? Perhaps you should heed the advice of Miz Market.

Copies of the Outpost of Freedom reports on the Golden Hill Paugeesukq Reservation are available. Call (602) 863-4912 for information.

Sensational Report #3

June 25, 1994

A few people, mostly recent to the network, called and asked who "Miz Market" represents. Well, Miz Market gets extremely upset whenever a question is posed to her when she is a guest on radio shows. It proclaims that to even mention my (Gary Hunt) name on the air is to give credit to someone who doesn't deserve it. She has gotten extremely upset when my name is mentioned (some say she goes ballistic), even when just by reference.On Phoenix radio KFYI, I was referred to as its "counterpart", to which she went on a three minute tirade,after which the caller was finally able to ask her twenty second question. So, I have decided not to mention her (Linda Thompson) name in my posts. Hey, I think that it is only fair!

To give a bit of background, Miz Market called me in Waco on March 14, 1993, asking if it could represent David Koresh (via a power of attorney I held) and me. It arrived in Waco on March 17, we filed a Petition for Writ of Mandamus on March 19 and it attempted to arrange circumstances that would have gotten me arrested, or killed, on March 20, I fired it on March 22 and hoped, at that time never to see or hear from it again. On April 6, 1993, it tried to raise an armed militia (of which it was Acting Adjutant General) in Waco - it had 21 people show up at the local Dairy Queen, that being its entire contingent.

Shortly after I returned to Florida from Waco I found out that it was accusing me of being a government agent. It has dogged me around the country, with its words, attempting to discourage people from allowing me on the radio. It has attempted to get people to refuse or cancel scheduled talks that I had arranged. It has put out a multitude of lies attempting to discredit me. It sent rumors (verified by oral affidavit) to Connecticut which put my life at risk when I went to the Golden Hills Paugeesukq Reservation in Connecticut. It tried to cause a crowd, at a talk it was giving in Orlando, Florida, which I attended, to "beat [me] to a bloody pulp" and tried to make the lynch mob frenzy manifest itself in actions. It stated that if it had had a gun in Waco, I would not be alive today. It has managed to cause a Phoenix radio station to cancel a scheduled guest appearance by me under threat of legal action. Basically, it is the epitome of what the Patriot community perceives as the enemy.The only difference is, is that it says what they want to hear, and many have listened, at least until common sense prevailed.

It (as is usually the case) has changed its story one more time. It has decided to spend nearly ten minutes of its own radio show (5.810 KHZ) mentioning my name. It has suggested that any other radio "personality" who would even mention my name would be guilty of treason. It appears, once again, that its double standard applies.

I will admit that I probably know as much about it as nearly anybody in the Patriot community. As a result, I have begun this feature. If anybody has any specific questions that they would like to direct to me about it, please feel free to contact me at (602) 863-4912, or fax me at the same number, with your questions.

I had started this feature using the name "Miz Market" rather than Linda Thompson (LT) because she appears to be more concerned with marketing frauds, mixed with occasional truths, than anything else. For an example of the "marketing" practices (Oh, did I mention she has an Associates Degree in Business Management?) see below for an idea of what a scam is. If you have a national listening audience and can pull down a few thousand buyers at a $16.50 profit, especially if she is drop shipping them, you have a real "Miz Market.

Now, LT has denounced Ron Cole, Wally Kennett and Dave Thibodeau because they got national press coverage. Strange, isn't it, that just a few months ago, when The Big Lie Continues came out, LT was complaining that the national press would not cover her. If she were a Davidian she would probably get coverage. After all, that was about the biggest story of 1993, and LT wasn't really even a player. She spent less than a week in Waco during the siege - but has since become The Expert, bar none - not even the Davidians that survived the fire. The press, however, is reluctant to give coverage to fraudulent videos such as The Big Lie and its sequel. There are truths in both videos, but the lies on the important facts, not principles, are damning and something that any credible media would stay away from. Proof is in the change in attitude of the patriot press. Once the Lie about the flamethrowing tank was exposed people walked away from covering the story, as told by LT.

LT persists in bringing up my trip to the Paugeesukq Reservation to cover a story where the Indians (protected by the same document we are supposed to be protected by, the Constitution) were surrounded by Connecticut State Police. Well, LT contacted an Indian in Florida and told that Indian that I had been on the Cabeza Reservation in California. She said that when I left the Chief was killed. Sound a bit like the FBI and Ogalala? The Florida Indian then called the Paugeesukq and related the story. Moonface Bear admitted to me after the "siege" was over that as a result of that phone call, they were ready to kill me if I made any questionable moves. Apparently she thought that the issue (the Indians) was important enough at the time and now she writes it off as being what 20/20 presented, as was investigated by Bill Cooper. Both LT and Cooper are still far from the truth of the incident. Anybody interested in the daily releases I filed from Connecticut, give me a call at (602) 863-4912.

LT talks of the risk created if people go to Colorado. Now I'm not advocating going to Colorado, but it reminds me of her warnings to people who went to Connecticut. Her "dream" of it being a "set-up" were not fulfilled, nor will they be in Colorado. Perhaps, if there are enough fools that will follow her to Washington in September, her "dream" will come true and the feds will have the means she says that they want, to justify declaring Martial Law.

Interesting that she begins her show with Carl Klang's "Blinded By The Lies". It seems that this is what her program is all about. Well, that and selling things. Like today, she will sell you a United Nations flag for only $40 + $4 shipping and handling. She gives the sob story that she is making nothing on the deal. She is doing it out of the kindness of her heart. Well, LT still files "income tax". Ask to see her 1993 return. You might be surprised at how concerned she is about getting truth out - kinda like Jimmie and Tammy Faye Baker.

Regarding the United Nations flags that LT is selling for $40 + $4 S&H, I called a local flag manufacture (AFC Flag Mfg. Co., Phoenix, Arizona, (602) 437-9776) and found that I could get a 2x3 UN flag for $17.50 or a 3x5 UN flag for $23.50, plus about $3 S&H.

Sensational Report #5

It has been suggested, on national radio (AEN), that "once you recognize an agent provocateur it is your responsibility to take him out, right then, right there, no questions asked." I have no doubt that this may soon become a necessity. Unfortunately, when the time comes that this must be considered a "standing order", there will not be time to reflect upon the criteria used to judge, or to make the determination, prior to the execution of the order.

Like many other aspects of what may be coming in the very near future, preparation, now, is a short cut to survival then. Whether it be first aid, food, clothing, ammunition or weaponry, to know, to understand and to have prepared yourself for the use of these "tools" is imperative.

There are other aspects that must be addressed, as well. There is the physical conditioning that is an absolute if you are to be a part of the militia. There is also the mental training that is necessary for each to prepare himself for, whether militia, or any other support function which will be necessary to be performed when called upon to do so. Lack of preparation now may prove fatal then, to yourself or others.

I would suppose that most of us have gone through in our minds the actions necessary for these eventualities. We have placed ourselves in the imagined roll of John Wayne, or perhaps real historical figures. We have imagined ourselves through the battlefield and on to survival, victory and glory. How many of us have prepared ourselves for the moral responsibility that results from the taking of another persons life, enemy, or not? I would suggest that with the exception of the Vietnam Veterans (real ones, not paper ones) among us, very few have faced the real dilemma presented by these circumstances. Linda Thompson claims that she is a disabled Vietnam Conflict Vet. She is not a Vietnam Vet, her service was over four thousand miles from a combat zone. Her assertions are a disgrace to those of us that risked our lives on foreign soil.

We have all heard of PTSD (post trauma stress disorder) which is suffered by many Vietnam Veterans. Much of the stress inherent in the disorder is a result of the moral condemnation which has been self-inflicted as a result of the guilt that was laid upon those of us that returned. We were accused of being baby killers, lacking conscience, being lackeys for the evil government and many more diatribes flung at us directly by the anti-war movement, and indirectly by the society as a whole, and in particular, the Congress that would take no responsibility, at all, for the failed "policy".

Understand, now, that you may be facing the same concerns as the Vietnam Veteran. You may suffer even more in much of what we will be facing, which, unlike Vietnam, will be more similar to the Revolution or Civil War, brother against brother. We will have to, in our minds at least, condemn our brother to impose upon ourselves the right to take his life. He will, in many cases, be a fellow American, albeit mislead by the same government that mislead millions during Vietnam. Until he raises his weapon to take you, or one of your allies, lives, he has every chance to redeem himself, and to join the proper side. There are two reasons for this attitude to be maintained. First, is that we need every person who is willing and capable of understanding the concepts of Freedom and Liberty. Second,the righteousness of our actions will be judged, and if we fail in the eyes of the Lord, we will surely fail in our efforts.

The circumstances surrounding the situation of which we speak creates a rather different set of criteria than that of a battlefield. When confidence and faith are granted to someone, and this relationship increases risk to all involved, the time and need for judgement is completely different. It is in this arena in that we must begin to educate ourselves, mentally, to a higher degree than ever implied on the movie screen.

To begin, understand that we are addressing an enemy who has entrenched himself into a position of reclaiming what he had lost (at the conclusion of the Revolution) since as early as 1800. He has slowly and meticulously created laws that would not benefit him for generations, knowing that his posterity would eventually gain from his groundwork. Through constitutional amendment, statutory law, deceit, fraud, coercion, intimidation, guile and force he has managed to condition the battlefield to his liking. This is the occurrence of generations.

During the siege at Waco there were but a few who succeeded in getting the truth out to the Patriot community. I will not name those, except to say that if you look back in the record, much was said and published, the sources, however, were few. The Outpost of Freedom, via the American Patriot Fax Network

(APFN), was one of those - and this combination was able to produce daily reports of the events of the siege. It was shortly after the siege that an attack came upon that successful means of communication. The attack has been constant against the Outpost of Freedom, and occasionally against the APFN. By May, 1993, there were claims, all from a single source, that the Outpost of Freedom was a government agent. By June, when a careful evaluation of the video, Waco, The Big Lie, convinced this reporter that there was NO flamethrowing tank, the attacks became more frequent. By August visual proof was finally presented, and all who then, with their own eyes, saw the fallacy of the original video, became government agents, as well.

Since that time callers on radio shows who question the validity of the claim of a flamethrowing tank are accused of being government misinformation specialists. People in audiences who choose to question the same, or to ask serious questions are ridiculed, subjected to verbal abuse or condemned as government agents. Provocateur is not an uncommon label.

Should we, perhaps, look to the source of virtually ALL of these accusations? Is there one of you that has not perpetuated the labelling of others, without proof? If you feel that you have, on your own, come to these conclusions, ask yourself what your foundation for these conclusions really is. See if your answer does not focus back to a single source. See if that source is any other than Linda Thompson, Bar attorney from Indianapolis, Indiana.

To prepare yourself, mentally, for what is to come, you must first learn to think for yourself. It is clear (as was expressed on the Barry Young Show, KFYI radio, Phoenix Arizona, May 3, 1994) that when the militia arrives in Washington, D.C. there may be casualties. To use the words of the guest on that show, when asked whether there would be casualties, she responded, "T*hat's the first wave. But the* (short pause, as if a realization just occurred) rest of us . . ." George Washington led his men into battle, for he had faith in the Lord. General William C. Westmoreland sat, conveniently, in Saigon, surrounded by bodyguards, directing the troops into the battle. I live and roam freely among the patriots around this nation, going to locations to cover stories so that I am sure that what I report is true. I share homes, and bread living among those I report to and owe allegiance to. Linda Thompson sits in a studio determining truth from what she observes from video tapes and phone calls, many unsubstantiated and not investigated. She surrounds herself with bodyguards and demands security wherever she goes, flying around on MasterCard and staying away from all but a few of those she professes to desire to help. Who is it that she must be protected from?

To understand the enemy perhaps it would be wise to understand what benefits the enemy. Division is a necessary tool. Division is not created by difference in thought, it is created by accusations. The accuser must held to bear the burden of proof. Linda Thompson has made every sort of accusation that is imaginable. She has never brought forward any proof, other than her own words, and her suggestions of what might be, to justify the accusations. I would challenge you to look for proof for yourself, for if you question her proof you may just find yourself the object of those accusations, and the object of the initial object of this writing.

The enemy will seek to attack those that she perceives as obstacles in her objective. Any who would challenge her authority must be rebuked. If they will not fall into line, they must be dealt with, preferably by actions of other than herself. She will use every sort of trick, device or lie to accomplish discrediting that person so that she appears, by default, to be the "correct" person, and therefore the true leader. She will exert much effort in encouraging others to pick up the attack that she must generate.

The enemy, by appearing to be friend, will coerce others into stupid actions. She condemns other's calls when the response was needed, and welcomed. She describes them as being plots of the government. These accusations are all proven wrong by time. For the accusations were as false as the one who created them. When she calls for others to come to her aid with arms, she derides the attempts of others to instill reason in the process. Her actions epitomize the accusations she has made, yet those who seek only to hear what they wish to hear succumb to her pleas, ignoring the recent failures of her accusations.

The enemy must never admit that she erred. If she is proven, by real evidence, to have promoted a lie, she will find every manner to ignore the issue, or redirect thought away from it. She will blame the fault on her sources, which, otherwise, are impeccable. Whatever she says must stand in stone, until she can cover it up with dust.

If you wish to judge who might be an enemy of our goals, then look not at the information, look not at the person, look, rather, at the results of that person's activities. Guile is the tool of the enemy, and guile is the enemy of the Constitution.

June 30, 1994

We have been told over and over again that we should get one of those cheap, throw away cameras so that if we see troop movements, UN equipment or black helicopters we can get pictures. Well, I've had a camera with me since before Waco and have yet to find a black helicopter to shoot (with camera, of course). I hear that they are flying over a certain building on Emerson Avenue in Indianapolis almost daily. Has anybody got any pictures, yet?

A friend asked me what the difference was between a Vietnam Veteran and a Vietnam Era Veteran. Well, my brother is a Vietnam Era Veteran, he served from '64 to '84, in the states and in Germany. I am a Vietnam Veteran and served from '64 to '67, in Germany and Vietnam. The military benefit package is the same regardless of which Veteran you are. The Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), however, only admits Vietnam Veterans into membership. The difference is where you served, not when you served.

Similarly, a disabled Vietnam Era Vet might be some clumsy oaf who fell and broke his arm state side. A Disabled Vietnam Vet could, likewise, have fallen and broken an arm, but since that person was in a combat zone (risking his life for the cause) he would have a different status, with the same benefits. Unfortunately, many disabled Vietnam Vets are in VA hospitals around the country receiving some of the worst medical and psychological attention available. To lay claim that you are among those who were at risk, when in fact, you were not is to discredit those who made such a great sacrifice. When you take "era" out and put "conflict" in, you change the nature of the beast. If you were in the "conflict", you were in the "conflict". If you were in the "era", you were in the "era". Words don't change reality, but, then, that is what this feature is all about.

It was interesting to hear a caller to the radio show (AEN on WCCR) point out how it is absolutely imperative that when there has been an "error" in reporting, there must be an honest and sincere retraction. If we can overcome these ills that plague us, then we can become a cohesive entity ready to take on those that would steal our Constitution and way of life. Is it possible that we may be approaching that condition? My guess is that there are some that must stick their necks out against the adversity to accomplish that goal. It will be nice when I can pull my neck back in, again.

It also appears that the communication within the Patriot community is increasing at a phenomenal rate. I have received letters from people in jail who have received copies (in jail) of Outpost of Freedom releases. I can listen to just about any corner of the country and see that the words are getting into more places, quicker than ever before. Bless these little fax machines, and the copiers that extend their reach even further.

Funny that some wannabe has asked if people thought that she could rival David Koresh in notoriety [the quality or state of being notorious - widely and unfavorably known - funny she should use that term]. I think that the comparison should be to Bob Ricks, not to David Koresh. David stood for honesty, faith and moral courage.

Linda is attempting to defend her march, and the questions raised about the possibility of a declaration of martial law. In response she said that "they can declare martial law anytime they want. They don't need an excuse."

I would like to quote LT from a letter she wrote this past February.

"Patriots, the feds are looking for an opportunity to provoke a riot and declare Martial law. They are creating this opportunity before our eyes, and "Chief Moon Face Bear" and his people, while they may have no legitimate claim to a "reservation" are nothing but pawns that will sacrificed to accomplish this goal."

One word for the attack, the other word for the defense!

July 1, 1994

On the Barry Young Show, KFYI radio, Phoenix, Arizona on May 3, 1994 Linda Thompson, while discussing Gary Hunt, said," he's a government agent. Everyone who has been associated with him has ended up arrested." She also said that I only get patriots in trouble, was a traitor to the country, a government operative and was paid to do it. She then went on to say that she would not repeat my name on the air, that to give a "traitor" publicity was something that she would never do.

These allegations are not new, they have been occurring for over a year and repeated on radio, television and in writing. The only source of any information that might substantiate these claims is Linda Thompson, herself. Others only lip her words if they make these allegations. She has duped thousands with these claims, but she has never, and can never, offer proof to support them.

Honesty and Integrity are virtues unknown to our current government. I will suggest that they are also virtues unknown to Linda Thompson. She can make these claims, but she can not back them up. She has the very same virtues that the government has become known for, and equally despised for.

Why is it that some of the Patriot community is so quick to condemn government but refuses to acknowledge when a self-proclaimed "patriot" is guilty of the same attributes they are condemning? Can you not see the divisive nature of Linda Thompson? Her self serving interests are totally, and I mean absolutely, without integrity, yet many would follow her to their deaths on September 19.

I will suggest that the Patriot community will be far better off after September 19. Those unthinking, unreasoning, impetuous, foolish, immature and mentally blind numbers among us will be reduced to an insignificant handful. When the hammer falls, we will not be burdened by those that would otherwise only be a hinderance.

On another note, in a letter written by Linda Thompson last February, she appeared to criticize the fact that when I published the Outpost of Freedom newspaper I listed over one hundred patriot organizations. She suggested that the government would get hold of the names of these organizations and that this would serve the government. Foolish lady, the government already has those organizations names. My purpose was to get those names out to the patriots.

Well, I have just received a copy of the Fourth Edition of KNOWLEDGE EQUALS FREEDOM. It is a publication which includes articles of interest; quotes from well known, and not so well known, patriot publications; names, addresses and phone #'s for major media, certain federal agencies, hundreds of patriot organizations, with statements of purpose for many of them; and other useful information. There are over 900 sources of information all in this one publication. The cost is $20. 2-5 copies, $18 each. A very useful book to have around.

This information, as was what I published, is for the patriot. The government knows all this stuff already. GH

On the March 7, 1994 Chuck Harder radio show Linda Thompson was Chuck's special guest. During the show she announced that "they" had tried to kill her two times, but "they" weren't trying real hard. But, she does know who they are. By the March 24 show Linda stated that "they" have tried to kill her four times. Just think, two more attempts in 17 days. She did not mention, this time, whether they were trying to hit her, or not. They, of course, was reference to the government, and it's agents. Living in Indianapolis, Indiana, I'm sure that there would have been risk created for others, as well as a good chance that there would be some property damage. Hey, put yourself in her shoes. If there were four, count them, four attempts at your life, by gunshots, wouldn't you report it?

Maybe she will produce the police reports that were filed after these attempts. But, then, I'm sure that we will be told that she didn't see any need to file with the police. After all, the police are government employees. There would be no purpose served by involving the police. With the exception, of course, that during the talk she gave in Orlando, Florida last January 15 when she called for the police in an effort to have me removed from the room. Perhaps the police are only useful when you want a paid member of the audience removed and not when the government is doing something as insignificant as trying to kill you.

Also, on the March Linda seemed very upset when she said, "They didn't give me a bit of credit for it, either. . . and I'm upset." She was referring to the Clinton body count (abnormal number of suspicious deaths of Clinton associates) information and her claim that these "truths" are her "truths". It would seem, however, that truth belongs to all of us. Does she give credit to those that provide her information? Is she sure that someone else wasn't investigating this same matter, perhaps even before her? If she were the one to expose the "body counts", is the exposure, itself, not significant reward? After all, just a few minutes later she was telling the listening audience how the jury has a right to judge law as well as fact. I'm sure that she did not develop this information by herself. But, she refused to acknowledge the Fully Informed Jury Association (FIJA) as the source of this information. Does this now give you a clearer picture, and understanding, of Linda Thompson, Bar attorney from Indianapolis, Indiana?

Speaking of the Fully Informed Jury Association (FIJA), these people did an excellent job in getting information to those jurors in San Antonio, and many other trials around the country. If you are not informed of your rights as a juror, or if you would like to help inform others of their rights, please contact FIJA at (406) 793-5550 (voice and fax). They are looking out for your rights and deserve your support.

". . . Shut Up, or Put Up!"

Linda Thompson, July 12, 1994 - WWCR radio

Linda Thompson, patriot - or - Coward and Fraud?

To Linda Thompson via fax (317) 780-5209

Since March of 1993, an alleged member of the Patriot community has accused others within the community of being "government agents" and numerous other objectionable entities. This person has claimed that she has proof of these allegations and can present the same. Instead, she refers to unknown sources and relies on ambiguous assumptions generated with little foundation in the truth of the matters described.

She professes to desire a return to constitutional government. However, she finds the need to exert every effort to deny the very freedoms she espouses to others who seek the same objective. She denies freedom of speech to others as she condemns the "establishment press" for doing the same. She denies the right of Congress to a grand jury, while insisting that they need to convene one. She proclaims her "truths" to be the only "truth" and condemns any who challenges or even questions the credibility of her claims.

Of all those she has condemned, the most frequent object of her condemnations has been me, Gary Hunt, Outpost of Freedom. She disputes the proof that has been given regarding her involvement with me at Waco and denies the existence of letters written by herself. She alleges that Ron Engleman and Gary Hunt conspired to make it appear that Hunt had been granted Power of Attorney by David Koresh. Yet, her first paperwork in Waco and much that followed was filed predicated upon the validity of the Power of Attorney. She suggests, then, that she was duped by Hunt and Engleman when, in fact, the only person who was in a position to deceive fifty thousand listeners was her friend, Ken Fawcett. And this is just the beginning of her accusations.

The Constitution provides that the accused has the right to a trial by a jury of his peers. He also has a right to meet his accuser. The responsibility is upon the grand jury to indict him only if arrest is desired. Yet, it does not deny that he might stand as charged (to answer) without a grand jury. The right of counsel, witnesses and evidence are also inherent. By these protections of our rights, it is clear that the Constitution stands for the right of anyone accused of crimes to answer those accusations.

As far as the charges against me, she has claimed that I: am a government agent; am a paid disinformation specialist; am an ATF agent; am an agent provocateur; have never had a job; get patriots in trouble; plagiarize the works of others with my writings; get those with whom I associate arrested; was co-founder of APFN (American Patriot Fax Network); am a traitor; and, that I am guilty of treason. To all of the above I plead NOT GUILTY.

I stand accused and under the intent of the Constitution demand that the accuser meet me before a jury of peers and present her case and her evidence and that I be allowed to present my defense. It is time for Linda Thompson (Bar attorney) to "shut up, or put up!"

Since there is an assumption that I have a right to a speedy trial, I demand that this trial be held by August 31, 1994. If we (as we profess) desire a return to constitutional government, let us provide the proof that the system will work. Unless we are hypocrites of unbelievable magnitude, this is the only remedy for the taint that has befallen us. Let us put into practice what we preach.

If Linda Thompson is unable, or unwilling, to stand as the accuser and is only able to cast names and accusations with impunity on the radio stations which have allowed this problem to exist, and on her bulletin boards and other publications, then we must see her as she truly is. A Coward, a sneak, a Liar and the epitome of what we would call our enemy. Most of all, if she is not willing to stand behind her accusations, this stands as prima facie evidence that SHE IS A FRAUD and a COWARD.

This post is not to the choir. If you understand who, and what, Linda Thompson is, this is not for you. It is, however, to all of our advantage to pass this on to those who still believe that Miz Thompson is God's gift to the Patriot community. These will mostly be newcomers to the community, those who have yet to experience the rumor mill in action and those who do not recognize that government will do everything to undermine our efforts. If it is to good to be true, then it probably is!

We have all heard numerous stories of the hundreds of thousands of foreign troops currently invading our shores. We have been told, by Miz Thompson, that she knows that they are here, and even has pictures of them. Massive troop movements permeated her earlier discussions. But, where are these massive movements? More recently Miz Thompson has reduced her claim of 30-40 thousand foreign troops. This is much different than the hundreds of thousands previously stated.

We hear her speak of black helicopters buzzing her office almost daily, yet she has failed to get a picture of any of these evil and ominous threats to her security. She has had attempts on her life made on three occasions, with no police report or bullets holes. Strange, isn't it, that these purported attempts went unnoticed by others and the police, and that "they" are such bad shots?

She has generated falsehoods out of Waco that leave the truth (as abominable as it is all by itself without falsehoods) lost in the speculation of what is. Here efforts to obfuscate the truth have succeeded in creating the greatest dilemma the patriot community faces, and she stands alone in her claims at this time.

Politicians are those that will tell us what we want to hear, regardless of what we should hear. Is this not the tactic that this Bar attorney from Indianapolis has used to acquire your ear? She has, on at least two occasions, promised that she would withdraw from the legal profession, and would not continue to be "one of the enemy." Yet her license remains current. She lies to you, and you bow to kiss her feet.

Some have said that Miz Thompson brought Waco into an awareness that would not have been achieved without her. Let me now suggest that this is absolutely wrong, and is equally evil. From what I have seen as I travel around speaking of Waco the thirst for information was generated by the governments deeds, not by Miz Thompson. There are many out there speaking the truth, but they are overshadowed by the fraud. To assume that the thirst for truth would not have been quenched by others is absurd. To attribute to someone (who has done so much to damage the credibility of the Patriot community) the title of being the one who awakened America to the evils of Waco is to support the evils that have created the problems that exist today. Why bless this attorney with any saving grace when she epitomizes the cause of our problems - deceit, fraud, guile, &c. To claim that we want Liberty and Freedom and truth and then honor this wench, is a discredit to all who make these claims. She is the enemy of what we are seeking and she has taken away years of effort by many who have striven for change in this country. And, now, she attempts to lead a disaster that will go down in history, and will set back the cause more than any other single action could.

For me, it is no longer worth my time to attempt to enlighten any who cannot see through the charade. I have better causes for my time, and I hope that you will find that you do as well. To Linda Thompson - the one who seeks freedom, yet denies it, seeks justice - yet denies it, seeks truth - yet denies it, let the Patriot community begin to see you as and for what you are,

A FRAUD AND A COWARD!

Sensational Report #10

August 7, 1994

On July 29, Linda Thompson was arrested while in the vicinity of a Health Security bus convoy. Beyond that we must put the pieces together to determine what for, and what followed.

On her August 1, 1994 radio program (WWCR), she told us that she was following the buses and was approached, told to get out of the car, arrested for possession of a firearm and then put in a paddy wagon. She told us that her life was saved by some unknown woman who followed her to jail and posted bond. She tells us that if she were thrown in jail she would have been killed.

Okay, let's break this down a bit. If she would have been killed in jail, everybody would have suspected the action. It would seem that if somebody ("they" according to LT) wanted her dead it would be much more like Karen Silkwood than Rambo. But, we still don't know the circumstances.

We have an article from the South Bend Tribune (AP article), August 1, 1994, which might help clarify some of the circumstances. The article tells us that EPA administrator, Carol Browning was on the bus, along with supporters of the plan. Among those waiting for her at a local East side union hall was Linda Thompson. After parking her van in front of the caravan, Thompson was arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and possession of a firearm.

Thompson's Thursday (August 4) radio show from Bill Cooper's studio in Show Low, Arizona, tells us quite a different story. In this show Linda tells us that there was only the disorderly conduct charge. She also tells us that the paddy wagon took a side trip and that when the wagon stopped in a graveled alleyway, she was told to get out while the other prisoners were kept inside. Fortunately, a woman, who had been following the wagon, came around the corner and said, "Are you okay?" which kept the polic, who were holding a gun on her, finger on the trigger, from killing her there, on the spot.

Integrity, honesty and truth are our greatest weapons. Integrity, honesty and truth are foreign to Miz Thompson. Her stories are told to entertain the listener, and enhance the listeners opinion of Thompson. She tells people what they want to hear, rather than what they need to hear. Whether it be a flamethrowing tank, a child killed on February 29, 1993, in Waco, or the circumstances of her arrest the stories are colored to get your ear, and to make Thompson appear to be God's gift to the Patriot community.

Another question that frequently arises is whether there will be an armed march on Washington on September 19. The answer is as clear as what the listener wants to hear. If you ask her this question, and she believes that you are anxious to go, she will tell you it is still on. On the other hand, if you have pointed out the lunacy of the idea, she will tell you some other story. The most common, now, seems to be that it was done to scare Congress into submission. What a way to fight a war!!

Only you can be the judge of what you hear. In my opinion Thompson should be in a cow pasture where what she says will feel at home.

Sensational Report #11

August 7, 1994

Pay attention, Stupid!

There are many people who have spent many years in pursuing a solution to the problems that ail us today. When I was young I saw John Birch Society signs demanding that we leave the United Nations, this back in the fifties. It seems that what John Birch Society was saying years ago, had it been heeded, was the most significant problem, and might have removed the obstacles that we find we must overcome today.

Through the years there have been many people and organizations who have had their ideas as far as a solution to the problem. It is no different today. There are still many people and organizations with many ideas.

Among those most frequently heard from today there is one that stands far "above" the rest. This person has the only solution. It is such a unique idea that it is well above the rest of us. In fact, it is so brilliant that most of us would not understand it. Therefore, whenever anyone asks questions which might help others to understand how we are going about this awesome task, they are rejected as a child invading the sanctuary of the bedroom at night. If their persistence in seeking the answer is significant, they are accused of being "government agents" or other such ilk. After all there is only ONE solution to the problem which ails us.

Let's look back, however, at history (not ours, for this secret is one of far more significant history). TheRussians, after the revolution of 1918, decided that any who sought answers must be disposed of. The purges of Russia resolved the problems of dissention for generations to come. That appears to be the big secret that none are allowed to know. That, and whether there is going to be an armed march in Washington next month. And, then, there is the government agent on the roof at Waco, and the child killed on February 28, and the fire in the underground bunker, and the flame throwing tank, and, well, you know. Anyway, if you seek the truth, listen closely - and pick what suits you, but, don't question what might not appear to fit, for that will provide you with absolute condemnation.

Mike Dillon, of Dillon Precision, in a recent catalog asked if Linda Thompson was an agent provocateur. Virtually everything he said had merit with a single exception. That exception was the suggestion that Linda might have run for governor in Illinois back in 1976. I had been approached by someone four or five months ago with the same suggestion. I explained that this could not be true because she was in the Army at the time, probably was to young to run (age 23) and was in Europe, at least according to her resume. I had no reason to believe that there was any truth to this story. I suggested that the person who had brought it to me might run the message back down the line. Apparently, however, someone was determined to get this story out. Finally Mike Dillon, who makes excellent reloading equipment, was duped. Mike has said that he made a few phone calls and that it appeared to be true since the source was credible. He did say that there was no information to back up the claim. Mike, then very concerned over other aspects of this character (LT) decided to include this issue in the article he wrote. Interestingly, Linda Thompson has picked this up like she was a little girl and had the only lollipop in the world. Finally, she can prove that one thing they say about her is false.
